

PENZANCE BIOGRAPHICAL BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE

“LET THOSE WHO COME AFTER SEE TO IT THAT THEY ARE NOT FORGOTTEN”

This biographical record follows on from the Roll of Honour which was presented to Penzance by the Town Council in August 2014 during the celebrations to mark the 400th year since the granting of the charter to the town and the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of The Great War. The Roll of Honour identified approximately 660 men and women who had lost their life from 1899 (Boer War) to the present day. It covered the area of Penzance Borough and the inclusion in 1934 of Gulval, Heamoor, Newlyn, Mousehole and Paul. The Roll of Honour can be seen outside Gallery 5 in Penlee Gallery and Museum but it just gives basic details such as Name, Rank, Unit/Ship etc. and Theatre of Operation.

This biographical record gives much more detail but is still incomplete and we need the assistance of everyone to fill in the missing pieces and, of course, to correct any unintentional errors. This is why we have produced this book in draft and online so that when we go to print it will be as correct as possible and a fitting tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

This book is very much a work in progress and we hope that we will, in the end, have a permanent record of those who gave their lives in the cause of freedom. At the moment we have 17 names that we are unable to identify.

The information comes from many sources and we are pleased to acknowledge the contribution made by the following:

Regimental Museum, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, Bodmin

Cornishman Newspaper

Bartlett Library, National Maritime Museum, Falmouth

Morrab Library, Morrab Gardens, Penzance

Public Library, St John's Hall, Penzance Cornwall

Record Office, Truro

Cornwall Family History Society, Truro

Cornish Studies Library, Redruth

Commonwealth War Grave Commission

Naval & Military Press

Special thanks go to Major Bob Harrison (retired) who has worked tirelessly over many years to compile the information in this book.

We are also indebted to the personal accounts and comments from many of the relations and friends of those honoured.

The online version of this draft book can be viewed on the Penzance Council website. Anyone who can help by providing missing information or corrections to any errors is asked to contact the Town Council using the contact details provided below:

ASH, Edmund. Leading Seaman. 3247C. Royal Naval Reserve. SS Dartmoor. Lost at sea through enemy action on Sunday 27th May 1917 age 40. Husband of Amelia Ash, Mount Pleasant, Mousehole, Penzance, Cornwall. Also listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 23). The SS Dartmoor, a defensively armed ship of 2,870 tons, was torpedoed without warning and sunk by the German submarine UC-50 thirty five miles south east of Fastnet. Twenty five of her crew, including the Master, went down with the ship. Amelia Ash later married Walter Harvey and they moved, with their children, in about 1920, to work and live Great Yarmouth. Plymouth Naval Memorial is located on The Hoe which looks directly out to Plymouth Sound in Devon. It commemorates those members of the Royal Navy who have no known grave, the majority of deaths having occurred at sea where no permanent memorial could be provided. It commemorates more than 7,000 of the Great War and almost 16,000 from the Second World War.

BAILEY, Harry. Engineman. 2933/ST. Royal Naval Reserve. HMS Vivid. Died on Wednesday 5th February 1919 age 28. Husband of Annie Bailey of 3 St John's Place, Penzance, Cornwall. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 8), Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HMS Goliath, a Canopus class battleship, was sunk on 13th May 1915 by a Turkish torpedo boat off Cape Helles, Gallipoli, Turkey with the loss of over 500 crew.

BERRYMAN, Luke Spargo. Master. Merchant Navy. SS Coath (Penzance) formerly SS Skerryvose (Glasgow). Lost at sea through enemy action on Wednesday 13th December 1916 age 59. Father of Miss Mary Berryman of Calabar House, 3 Lescudjack Road, Penzance, Cornwall. Listed on Tower Hill Memorial, London and on the Transport War Memorial, Newhaven, East Sussex (North panel). Also listed on St John's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on family grave in Penzance Cemetery. The SS Coath was originally presumed sunk by a mine in the English Channel on 13th December 1916, with the loss of 16 crew, but now believed to have been torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine UB-38 off Beachy Head, East Sussex en route Eastbourne to Le Havre, France with a cargo of arms and ammunition. In 1904 she had collided with and sank the RN submarine A9 off Plymouth, Devon but with no casualties on either vessel.

BIRD, Clement Eustace. Second Lieutenant. 9th (Service) Battalion, Royal Fusiliers (City of London Regiment), 36th Brigade, 12th (Eastern) Division. Died of wounds in France on Thursday 28th June 1917 age 19. Son of Henry Bird and Maud Katharine Bird (née Stawell) of 9 Morrab Terrace, Penzance; brother of Richard and Harry Bird (see below). All four brothers were in the Army but only one survived. Clement was educated at Penzance County School for Boys (Godolphin House)(now Humphry Davy School) and left in the Christmas term of 1914. He joined 4th Battalion Devonshire Regiment and after training went, as a Lance Corporal, with the battalion to India. He returned from India as a Sergeant and was commissioned into the Royal Fusiliers who were then stationed at Shoreham, Essex. Interred in Monchy British Cemetery, Monchy-le-Preux, Pas de Calais, France (I.F.15). Listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Humphry Davy School War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

BIRD, Harry Godwin Decimus. Private. 21571. 5th (Western Cavalry) Battalion, 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Died of wounds at Wimereux on Monday 23rd April 1917 age 23, received at Vimy Ridge on 9th April. Born at Plymouth 22nd October 1892 and educated at Exeter and Ottery St Mary. Emigrated to Canada in 1911 and settled at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan where he was employed by the Royal Bank of Canada. Joined the Canadian Militia there and was called up on the outbreak of war in August 1914. Served with the Expeditionary Force in France and Flanders from February 1915. Son of Henry Bird and Maud Katharine Bird (née Stawell) of 9 Morrab Terrace, Penzance, Cornwall; brother of Richard and Clement Bird (see above and below). Interred Wimereux Communal Cemetery, Boulogne, France (II.I.6A). Listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on Page 201 of the Canadian First World War Book of Remembrance in Ottawa, Canada. The 5th was the right hand battalion of the Canadian Corps at the Battle of Vimy Ridge - one of 21 battalions of some 600 men each. It was a miserable day with sleet, rain and snow and the 5th was in the first wave with zero hour at 0530 hours. Throughout the previous 24 hours the Allied artillery pounded the enemy positions on Vimy Ridge and at zero hour changed to a creeping barrage with the advancing infantry sometimes getting to within 60 metres of it! The battalion overran the first and second lines sustaining few casualties but the third line proved a tough nut to crack and the German fire accounted for many of the attacking force. However, the ridge was taken and a noble Canadian victory achieved.

BIRD, Richard de Burgho Molyneux. Lance Corporal. 432. Number 3 Company, 8th (Winnipeg, Manitoba) Battalion, 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Killed in action on Sunday 25th April 1915 age 30 during the Second Battle of Ypres. Born in Maker, Cornwall on 21st February 1885. Son of Henry Bird and Maud Katharine Bird (née Stawell) of 9 Morrab Terrace, Penzance, Cornwall; brother of Clement and Harry Bird (see above). Went to Canada in 1912 and settled at Winnipeg as a lawyer. Enlisted at Valcartier, Quebec on 23rd September 1914. Listed on Menin Gate Memorial, Ypres, Belgium (Panel 24-26-28-30). Also listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on Page 5 of the Canadian First World War Book of Remembrance in Ottawa, Canada. On 25th April 1915 the Canadians conducted a fighting retreat against overwhelming odds. They had endured heavy shelling, both gas and high explosive, and repelled countless attacks on this the fourth day of the battle but they held their ground until relieved in the line later in the day. Casualties, on both sides, were heavy with the Canadians suffering more than 6,000.

BLAKE, Harold George. Sapper. 551314. Railway Troops (Longmoor), Royal Engineers. Died at Torquay on Saturday 16th March 1918 age 29. Husband of Alice Mary Blake of 11 Upton Hill, Torquay, Devon. Former booking clerk with GWR at Penzance, Cornwall.

BLAMEY, Harry. Serjeant. 24236. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Died of wounds from enemy shellfire on Saturday 21st September 1918 age 24. Elder son of Mrs Mary Blamey of 1 Rosevean Terrace, Penzance, Cornwall. He was on the staff of the Midland Railway Company, having been transferred from Penzance to Bristol, and volunteered for service shortly after the outbreak of hostilities.. Interred in Grevillers British Cemetery, Bapaume, France (XIII.D.15). Listed on Penzance War Memorial, St John's Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The 15th of September saw 1 DCLI in the support area north east of Ytres. Enemy aircraft dropped bombs on the camp on the 17th but no casualties were suffered. On the 20th the Battalion relieved 14th Royal Warwicks in the front line. On the following day Serjeant Blamey was sitting in his dug out when an enemy shell (Whizz-bang) exploded and he was hit by a piece of shrapnel in the left shoulder. He died shortly afterwards.

BLEWETT, Cecil. Private. 33850. 1st Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Died of wounds on Friday 23rd August 1918 age 23. Enlisted in Penzance. Son of William Henry Blewett and Rovena Blewett (née Renfrey) of The Cliff, Mousehole. Interred in Boisguillaume Communal Cemetery Extension, Seine-Maritime, Rouen, France (E.18A). Listed on his parents' headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Mousehole Methodist Church War Memorial, on Paul Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. In early August the battalion was undergoing training following front line action in the Nieppe sector in July. On 21st August they entered into General Sir Douglas Haig's "Advance to Victory" battle, which had commenced astride the Somme on 8th August, and as part of a major attack, through mist and fog in the area of Bocquoy and Achiet Le Petit, they made significant advances. During the following day L/Cpl Onions, along with Pte Eades, attacked an enemy trench system and captured over 250 prisoners of war. For this action L/Cpl Onions was awarded the Victoria Cross.

BOLITHO , William Torquill Macleod. Lieutenant. 4th Troop, B Squadron, 19th (Queen Alexandra's Own Royal) Hussars, 9th Cavalry Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division. Killed in action on Monday 24th May 1915 age 22. Elder and only surviving son of Lieutenant Colonel William Edward Thomas Bolitho DSO, JP and Mrs Ethel Grace Bolitho (née Macleod) of York House, Trevelloe, Penzance and Hannaford, Ashburton, Devon (see above). Born on 13th November 1892 at Pendrea, Penzance and educated at Warren Hill, Eastbourne, Osborne Royal Naval College and Dartmouth Royal Naval College but reluctantly left the navy in 1912, in the rank of midshipman, due to chronic seasickness. Joined 19th Hussars in June 1913 and went to France with their B Squadron in August 1914. Promoted to Lieutenant in March 1915. He was killed by a shell, along with five of his men, while gallantly making his way through a zone of poisonous gas fumes at Chateau Hooge during the second battle of Ypres. Listed on Menin Gate Memorial at Ypres, West Flanders, Belgium (Panel 5) and on Paul Church War Memorial, Gulval Church War Memorial, Gulval War Memorial, Madron War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Also listed on a memorial plaque located in Invergordon town museum. In addition to a dedicated memorial window in the church of St Pol de Leon, Paul there is also one to him in the church of St John the Baptist, Luesden near Ashburton, Devon.

BOLLAND, Theodore Julian. Major (temp.). 1/9th Battalion (Territorial Force), The King's (Liverpool Regiment), 2nd Brigade, 1st Division. Killed in action on Sunday 9th May 1915 age 45. Son of Thomas John Bolland of Manchester; husband of Bessie Evelyn Bolland (nee Lane) of "Belmont", Penzance. Born on 6th January 1870 and educated at Uppingham. Joined the Manchester Regiment in 1892 and later transferred to the 16th Rajputs, Indian Army. Retired, due to ill health, in 1902. On the outbreak of the war he was gazetted Captain (temp.) in the 9th (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment and soon afterwards was promoted to Major (temp.) in the King's. While in the front line, and in command of the battalion, he went to the rescue of a soldier who was lying wounded just over the parapet and was killed. Listed on Le Touret Memorial, Pas de Calais, France (Panel 6 to 8). Also listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. (Note: Local newspaper "The Cornishman" states that his battalion was 2/9 KINGS but this is incorrect as they did not arrive in France until 1917).

BONE, Samuel Harvey. Private. 1873. 4th Regiment, South African (Scottish) Infantry, South African Brigade, 9th (Scottish) Division. Killed in action on Monday 18th December 1916 age 25. Son of Mr and Mrs T. Bone of Levant Road, Pendeen; husband of Annie Bone of Richmond Street, Heamoor, Penzance. Interred in Faubourg D'Amiens Cemetery, Arras, France (Plot II, Row A, Grave 26). Listed on Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) War Memorial, Madron War Memorial, both Pendeen War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The South African Brigade (1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Regiments) joined the division in May 1916 and remained with it until September 1918. From 5th December 1916 until 9th April 1917 the division was in the line north and east of Arras. There was no major incident on 18th December 1916 so it is assumed that Private Bone's death can be attributed to the daily attrition experienced in the front line.

BONE, Thomas Trequathe. 2nd Corporal. 156953. Inland Water Transport, Royal Engineers. Enlisted in Penzance. Died of wounds on Sunday 2nd September 1917 aged 33 years. Youngest son of William and Sarah Trequathe Bone, The Coombe, Newlyn, Penzance. Interred in Dunkirk Town Cemetery, Nord, France (Plot II, Row A, Grave 8). BONETTO, Francis (Frank) Barnes. Private. 240592. 1/4th Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry (Territorial Force), 234th Brigade, 75th Division. Died on Saturday 2nd November 1918 age 22. Formerly a Territorial Force soldier 2855 with 1/5th DCLI. Enlisted at Penzance. Husband of Jessie Bonetto (née Nicholls). Interred in Gaza War Cemetery, Gaza, Israel (Plot XXVII, Row G, Grave 11) and listed on Newlyn and Falmouth War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The 1/4th Battalion DCLI (Territorial Force) was originally raised on 2nd September 1914 as the 4th (Foreign Service) Battalion (Territorial Force) from those officers and men of the 4th and 5th Territorial Battalions who had previously volunteered for overseas service. It was quickly re-designated the 1/4th as another foreign service battalion, the 2/4th, was raised. The 1/4th sailed for India on 4th October 1914 where it underwent a period of hard training to bring it up to the standard required of fighting troops. On 22nd January 1916 the Battalion sailed for Aden, where it was involved in operations against the Turkish army that was attempting to attack the valuable strategic coaling station of Aden. In February 1917 the Battalion sailed for Suez where it joined General Allenby's Egyptian Expeditionary Force that was engaged in driving the Turkish army out of Palestine. Initially employed on guarding Allenby's lines of communication, it subsequently saw considerable action at El Mughar (13th November 1917), Nebi Samwil (19th - 22nd November 1917), Jerusalem (25th December 1917), Tel Asur (8th - 12th March 1918) and Sharon (19th - 25th September 1918).

BOON, Charles. Private. 17687. 7th (Service) Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 61st Brigade, 20th (Light) Division. Killed in action on Friday 25th August 1916 age 32. Born in Penzance. Second son of Alfred John and Lavina Boon of 7 Coinage Hall Street, Penzance. A printer by trade he joined the colours in Falmouth soon after the outbreak of the war. The Battalion sailed for France on 26th /27th July 1915 as part of the 61st Brigade. Listed on Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 6B). Also listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Private Boon was asleep in his trench after coming off a working party. A shell blew in the parapet on top of him and buried him. It was some time before he was found but by then he was dead.

BRIDGEMAN, Samuel. Private. 200195 (previously allocated the number 1652). 1/4th Battalion (Territorial Force), Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 234th Brigade, 75th Division. Died on Thursday 24th October 1918 age 24 in Palestine. Born in Madron and enlisted in Penzance. Son of William and Lily Bridgeman of 4 Chyandour Terrace, Penzance. Interred in Gaza War Cemetery, Israel (Plot XXVII, Row E, Grave 2). Listed on Chapel Street Methodist Church War Memorial, Madron War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

BROAD, Charles Edward. Master. Merchant Navy. SS Boynton (London). Lost at sea on Monday 24th September 1917 age 51. Born at Fowey. Son of William and Mary Broad of Tolcarne, Newlyn; husband of Catherine Broad of 1 Peterborough Road, Wavertree, Liverpool; brother of Sidney (see below). Listed on Tower Hill Memorial, London and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The SS Boynton, a defensively armed ship of 2,578 tons, was torpedoed on 24th September 1917 without warning and sunk by a submarine 5 miles off Cape Cornwall. Twenty three of the crew were lost.

BROAD, Sidney. Steward. Mercantile Marine. SS Gredon (Cardiff). Lost at sea on Monday 8th October 1917 age 31. Born at Plymouth and resident in Great Yarmouth, Norfolk. Son of William and Mary Broad of Tolcarne, Newlyn; brother of Charles Edward (See above). Listed on Tower Hill Memorial, London, Madron War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The SS Gredon, a defensively armed ship of 3,322 tons, was torpedoed on 8th October 1917 without warning and sunk by a submarine 7 miles ENE of North Arklow light vessel, Ireland. Twenty eight of the crew were lost.

BROCK, Francis Dominic. Sergeant. 10478. 1st Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers (Princess Victoria's), 10th Brigade, 4th Division. Killed in action on Thursday 12th October 1916 age 24. Born in Penzance, Cornwall. Fourth son of John and Elizabeth Brock of Penzance. Enlisted in Dublin, Ireland. Listed on Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 15A). Also listed on Penzance War Memorial, both Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) and Madron War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On the evening of 11th October 1916 the Battalion received orders for an attack on the following day with the aim of establishing a position from which the German main trenches at Le Transloy could be assaulted. At 1450 hours on the 12th, the artillery barrage started and the soldiers leapt from their trenches. Unfortunately, in their eagerness, they followed too closely on the barrage, suffering casualties. This caused a momentary halt, but long enough to enable the enemy to get their machine guns into action. Officers and men made repeated attempts to advance, but this was impossible, and the result of the day's fighting was that the Brigade Commander ordered the old front line to be consolidated and held. This was done, and it was ascertained by patrolling that the Germans were also in their forward positions. The Battalion's casualty list at the end of the day was high.

BROMLEY, John Marshal. Corporal. 1920. Cornwall Royal Garrison Artillery (Territorial Force). Died on Saturday 3rd June 1916 age 41. Born at Madron, Penzance and enlisted at St Austell, Cornwall. Husband of Annie Bromley of 17 St James Street, Penzance. Interred in St Andrew Churchyard, Shoeburyness, Essex. BRYANT, Gordon Adams Cottgrave. Private. 53133. 15th (Service) Battalion (1st Salford), Lancashire Fusiliers, 96th Brigade, 32nd Division. Killed in action on Wednesday 3rd July 1918 age 19. Born in Penzance. Son of James Henry and Mary Bryant of 17 North Parade, Penzance. Employed by A.C. Bradbury (Outfitters) of The Terrace, Penzance before enlisting in Penzance. Member of Penzance Congregational Church. Listed on Arras Memorial, France (Bay 5). Also listed on Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and remembered on family grave in Penzance Cemetery.

CARNE, John Charles. Private. 1521. A Company, 6th (Victoria) Battalion, 2nd Infantry Brigade, 1st Division, Australian Imperial Force. Killed in action on Saturday 8th May 1915 age 21 at Gallipoli. Second son of John and Mary Carne of 16 Alverne Buildings, Penzance and later of 53 Belgravia Street, Penzance. Born at Penzance. Emigrated to Australia in 1914 and enlisted in Melbourne on 8th December 1914. Previously was a messenger boy in Penzance Post Office, a drummer in the Territorial Bugle Band and also in the Boys' Brigade. Listed on the Helles Memorial, Turkey (Panel 201 to 204 or 332) and on Panel 46 of the Australian War Memorial, Canberra, Australia. Also listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. There was a family memorial plaque in the United Methodist Church in Parade Street (now the Acorn Theatre) but whereabouts now unknown.

CARNE, Richard Bodinar. Private. 31792. 2nd Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, 23rd, 8th Division. Enlisted at Penzance. Killed in action 24th April 1918 age 20. Eldest son of John and Christiana Carne of 10 Church Town, Trungle, Paul. Listed on Paul Church War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on Pozieres Memorial, Somme, France. The Pozieres Memorial relates to the period of crisis in March/April 1918 when the Allied Fifth Army was driven back by overwhelming numbers across the former Somme battlefields. 2 Devons were in the line just south of Villers-Bretonneux near Amiens, France. At around 7.30am, following a heavy enemy bombardment, German tanks appeared close to Battalion Headquarters and their enfilade fire shot down most of the men in A and B Companies forcing the survivors, around 50, to withdraw. The other two companies held their position and by the following day the lost ground had been retaken.

CARTER WOOD, Joseph (Joey) Allan. Second Lieutenant. 2nd Battalion, Coldstream Guards, 4th (Guards) Brigade, 2nd Division. Killed in action on Monday 1st February 1915 aged 30 at Cuinchy, near Loos, France. Son of Joseph Edmund and Evelyn Alice Carter Wood of Skinburness Tower, Silloth, Cumberland. He was born on 3rd November 1884 and educated at a private school at Epsom and later at Uppingham. Gazetted 9th October 1914 and initially was attached to 4th (Reserve) Battalion at Windsor. He was posted to the 2nd Battalion on the Western Front in January 1915 and was killed during a German attack. Artist and student of Stanhope Forbes in the Newlyn area and had paintings hung in the Royal Academy. Interred in Cuinchy Communal Cemetery, Loos, France (II.B.27). Listed on Silloth War Memorial (Christ Church), Cumbria and Newlyn War Memorial. (Note that on the Newlyn War Memorial he is listed as CARTER-WOOD and in some army records as Joseph Allan Carter WOOD).

CASLEY, R.T. No further information.

CATTRAN, James Phillips. Private. 2356295. 43rd (Winnipeg, Manitoba) Battalion, 9th Brigade, 3rd Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Killed in action at Cambrai, France on Tuesday 1st October 1918 aged 28. Born in Newlyn on 22nd December 1889. Son of John James and Martha Jane Cattran of Park House, New Road, Newlyn, Penzance. Spent some time learning the shoemaking trade with Mr W.P. Harvey in Mousehole before leaving to work in Akron, Ohio, USA for several years. Enlisted in London, Ontario, Canada on 9th February 1918. Interred in Mill Switch British Cemetery, Tilloy-les-Cambrai, Nord, France (A.3). Listed on headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Newlyn and Madron War Memorials, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and in the Canadian Books of Remembrance in Ottawa (1918/382). The village of Tilloy was captured by the Canadian Corps at the end of September 1918. The name of the cemetery is due to a switch line from the Cambrai - Douai railway which ran to a large German supply dump on the site of a mill 800 metres North West of the cemetery.

CHAPPELL, George. Chief Engineer. Mercantile Marine. SS Red Rose (Liverpool). Lost at sea through enemy action on Wednesday 22nd May 1918 age 28 when his ship was sunk off the coast of France. Born St Just. Listed on both Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) and Madron War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. 2 DCLI had arrived in Salonika from France on 13th October 1915 which was a vast change from the muddy, water-logged trenches of Flanders. The enemy this time were the Bulgarians. On 16th November the battalion carried out an attack on the village of Tumbitza. In the advance they were met by a heavy fusillade of rifle and machine-gun fire which caused casualties and forced them to withdraw. In addition both sides exchanged artillery fire. It is most likely that Private Chappell was wounded in this action.

CHAPPELL, Percy. Lance Corporal. 30503. 1st Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action on Tuesday 6th November 1917 age 21. Born at Madron and enlisted in Exeter while resident at Heamoor, Penzance. DUSTING, Leonard. Private. 6978. 1st Regiment, South African Infantry, South African Brigade, 9th (Scottish) Division. Killed in action on Monday 17th July 1916 age 23. Son of William and Laura Grace Dusting, formally of Penzance. Interred in Delville Wood Cemetery, Longueval, Somme, France (X.L.3). Listed on Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Delville Wood was a tract of woodland, nearly a kilometre square, the western edge of which touched the village of Longueval in the Somme. On 14th July 1916 the greater part of the village was taken by the 9th (Scottish) Division and on the following day, the South African Brigade of that Division captured most of Delville Wood. The wood now formed a salient in the line, with Waterlot Farm and Mons Wood on the south flank still in German hands, and, owing to the height of the trees, no close artillery support was possible for defence. The three South African battalions fought continuously for six days and suffered heavy casualties. On the 18th July, they were forced back and on the evening of the 20th the survivors, a near handful of men, were relieved.

EADIE, John. Lieutenant. Royal Navy. HMS Defence. Killed in action on Wednesday 31st May 1916 at the Battle of Jutland age 35. Son of William and Annie Eadie of Richmond Street, Penzance. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (10), St Just War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HMS Defence, a Minataur class cruiser, was flagship of 1st Cruiser Squadron at the Battle of Jutland. She was blown up by gunfire from the German battleship Friedrich der Grosse on 31st May 1916 off the Jutland peninsula. There were no survivors from the crew of 893.

EDE, Richard Edwin. Corporal. 6059. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action Thursday 4th October 1917 age 38 at the Battle of Broodseinde. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Delver in stone quarry by trade. Son of Pasco and Johanna Ede of Penzance; husband of Mrs Leanora J. Nicholls (formerly Ede) of 5

Nevada Place, Heamoor, Penzance and later of White Goss, Ludgvan. Served in South African Campaign. Interred in Hooze Crater Cemetery, Ypres, Belgium (Plot XII, Row J, Grave 12). Listed on both Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) and Madron War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On 3rd October the Battalion was in reserve positions in Sanctuary Wood and that evening moved forward to relieve 1st East Surreys in the front line. The move up did not go well as heavy enemy shelling caused 60 casualties on their way up to their assembly positions. Heavy shelling continued throughout the night. At 0600 hours on 4th October the Battalion, with 1st Devons on their right, 1st East Surreys in close support and 12th Gloucesters in reserve, commenced the attack on the German lines. The ground was a vast wilderness of mud and shell-holes so the going was difficult for all concerned. As soon as they were clear of the trenches the assault waves came under heavy enfilade machine-gun fire which checked the advance but they soon got going again and captured over 200 prisoners and 15 machine-guns. Their final objective was Juniper Hill but the position could not be consolidated owing to the heavy artillery and machine-gun fire that continued until about 1830 hours. The Battalion held the ground that they had gained throughout the night with no serious German counter attacks and on the following night were relieved by 1st Cheshires.

FORBES, William Alexander Stanhope (Alec). Second Lieutenant. 1st Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action on Sunday 3rd September 1916 age 23. Born at Trewarveneth, Paul, Penzance on 26th May 1893. Only son of Stanhope Alexander Forbes (Artist) and Elizabeth Adela Forbes (née Armstrong)(Artist) of Higher Faugan, Newlyn. Enlisted in early 1916 and selected for officer training. Originally commissioned into the Military Forwarding Establishment but then transferred to DCLI. On or about 29th August 1916 he crossed to France and joined 1 DCLI with four other young officers. On Sunday 3rd September 1916 the Battalion took part in the final attack on the notorious Guillemont strong point. The village of Guillemont had been totally razed by shellfire but because it represented vital tactical ground had been very heavily defended. Already three major attacks had been thwarted at considerable cost of life. This fourth attack was entirely successful and was accomplished with comparatively few casualties. However, amongst those who were killed was Alec Forbes together with three of the four newly joined subalterns (2/Lt William Thomas Hichens, from St Ives, who was attached from 9 DCLI, 2/Lt Edward Gerald Templeman Kitson who was attached from 3 DCLI and Lt John Godden Teague, from Newquay, Cornwall who was attached from the Army Service Corps) who had accompanied him to France. Listed on Newlyn War Memorial, on family plaque within Sancreed Church, on Paul Church War Memorial, Tredavoe Methodist Church Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On his headstone in Guillemont his parents added the following inscription: He saw beyond the filth of battle and thought death a fair price to pay to belong to the company of these fellows. It is well worth making a visit to Sancreed Church to see the impressive family memorial plaque in memory of Second Lieutenant William Alexander Stanhope (Alex) Forbes. It is a two by three foot bronze plaque of the young man which was executed by his father. It shows him as a 2/Lt in DCLI uniform with a tower and bridge in the background which were taken from a series of drawings by Alex for which he won a travelling studentship of the Architectural Association. The architectural part of the monument was executed under the direction of Mr Edward Warren F.S.A who was also the architect of Newlyn War Memorial. The entablature surrounding the plaque is of grey stone with black marble columns from Derbyshire.

FRANCIS, Charles. Royal Naval Division. Wounded at Gallipoli and subsequently died at home. Son of Charles and Mary Annie Frances of 2 New Town Lane, Penzance. Interred in Penzance Cemetery - Nov/Dec 1918 age 23. Listed on Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

Second son of William and Edith Hosking of 11 Holly Terrace, Heamoor, Penzance. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 26), on both Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) and Madron War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. K17 was rammed by HMS Fearless during tactical exercises in the North Sea.

HOSKING, Ernest. Private. 2356570. 20th Battalion, Canadian Infantry (Central Ontario Regiment). Killed in action on Friday 11th October 1918 age 25 years during an advance to the north east of Cambrai, France. Enlisted at Ontario, Canada while resident at 491 Perkins Street, Akron, Ohio, USA. Rubber worker by trade. Born in Newlyn, Cornwall on 21st October 1892. Son of James Hosking and Mary Hosking (née Downing) of Duke Street, Newlyn, Penzance. Brother of Nicholas and William (see below). Interred in Niagra Cemetery, Iwuy, Nord, France (C.21) Listed on family headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Roll of Honour.

HOSKING, Frederick (Fred) James. Private. SS/13539. 18th Labour Company, Army Service Corps. Lost at sea on Friday 13th August 1915 age 48 on HM Troopship Royal Edward. Born at Penzance and enlisted in London. Son of William and Christina Hosking of 33 Adelaide Street, Penzance; brother of Mr John Hosking, conductor of Penzance Town Band. Listed on the Helles Memorial, Turkey (Panel 199 or 233 to 236 and 331), on Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HM Troopship Royal Edward, 11,000 tons, was torpedoed off the Gulf of Kos in the Aegean Sea by the German submarine UB14 with the loss of nearly 1,000 passengers and crew.

HOSKING, Herbert. Stoker 1st Class. K/18430. Royal Navy. HMS Defence. Lost at sea on Wednesday 31st May 1916 during the Battle of Jutland. Brother of William Hosking (see below); son of William Henry Hosking and Mrs Hosking of Penzance and later of 6 Princes Street, Devonport. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 16), Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HMS Defence, a Minotaur class cruiser, was flagship of 1st Cruiser Squadron at the Battle of Jutland. She was blown up by gunfire from the German battleship Friedrich der Grosse on 31st May 1916 off the Jutland peninsula. There were no survivors from the crew of 893.

HOSKING, Nicholas. Private. 9/493. 2nd Battalion, Royal Munster Fusiliers, 3rd Brigade, 1st Division. Killed in action on Monday 25th September 1916 on the Somme in France aged 33 years. Born and resident in Newlyn, Penzance. Enlisted at Pontypridd, Glamorgan, South Wales. Son of James Hosking and Mary Hosking (née Downing) of Duke Street, Newlyn, Penzance; brother of Ernest and William (see above and below). Interred at Flatiron Copse Cemetery, Mametz, Somme, France (I.F.16). Listed on Newlyn War Memorial, on family headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road and in Penzance Roll of Honour. The month of September found the Battalion in support trenches between Bazentin-le-Petit and Mametz Wood. The Battle of the Somme was still raging, with positions changing hands several times, and the whole battlefield was churned up into a network of shell-holes and trenches. During the night of the 17th they moved forward to the front line, took over from the New Zealanders, and for the following week were involved in several close quarter incidents which resulted in the Battalion suffering over thirty casualties. On the night of the 25th a small bombing raid by A Company was carried out on the left of the line but it was not successful and some losses were incurred. On the following day the Battalion was withdrawn from the line. (Note: Listed as Hoskings on the cwgc web site).

HOSKING, Nicholas Oats. Private. 27881. 2nd Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 82nd Brigade, 27th Division. Formerly 24166 Somerset Light Infantry. Killed in action on Thursday 7th December 1916 in the Balkans age 40. Born in Ludgvan and enlisted in Penzance. Son of John and Cordelia Hosking of Bojewyan, Pendeen. Interred in Mikra British Cemetery, Kalmaria, Greece (Grave 1927). Listed on both Pendeen war memorials and in Penzance Roll of Honour. The 5th December saw 2 DCLI, together with 2nd Gloucesters, in positions in Rabbit Wood where they received orders for a second assault on the village of Tumbitza. The bombardment commenced at 0500 hours the following morning and at 0640 hours the Gloucesters advanced across the river only to be met by a storm of rifle and machine-gun fire. Only a few made it to the far bank and cover. The Cornwalls were ready to follow, and had already suffered casualties, but further attacks were abandoned under orders from Brigade and the Gloucesters fell back across the river with most of their wounded. 2 DCLI lost 9 killed and 61 wounded during the day. As this was the only action involving the Battalion at this time it is possible that Private Hosking was wounded on the 6th and died the following day.

HOSKING, William. Stoker 1st Class. K/6661. Royal Navy. HMS Brisk. Lost at sea through enemy action on Tuesday 2nd October 1917. Brother of Herbert Hosking (see above); son of William Henry Hosking and Mrs Hosking, late of Penzance. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 22), Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HMS Brisk, a type H destroyer of the Acorn class launched in 1910, was torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of Rathlin Island, County Antrim, Northern Ireland on 2nd October 1917. The resulting catastrophic explosion broke her in two killing 31 seamen. The bow section sank but the stern section stayed afloat and was eventually towed into Londonderry. She was most likely torpedoed by U79 which earlier had crippled HMS Drake and sunk the SS Lugano, part of convoy HH24, inbound from the United States.

HOSKING, William Henry. AB Seaman. 2582B. Royal Naval Reserve. HMS Goliath. Lost at sea through enemy action on Thursday 13th May 1915 age 30. Son of James Hosking and Mary Hosking (née Downing) of Duke Street, Newlyn, Penzance. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 8), on family headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Newlyn War Memorial, on Paul Church War Memorial and on the Goliath Plaque and in Penzance Roll of Honour. HMS Goliath, a Canopus class battleship, was sunk on 13th May 1915 by a Turkish torpedo boat off Cape Helles, Gallipoli with the loss of over 500 crew.

HUMPHRYS, William Vingoe. AB Seaman. 3204C. Royal Naval Reserve. HMS Goliath. Killed in action on Thursday 13th May 1915 aged 36. Son of W.V. and N. Humphrys of Newlyn; husband of Emeline Humphrys (née Vingoe) of Trewaneth Street, Newlyn, Penzance. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 8), Newlyn War Memorial (as Humphreys), in Centenary Methodist Church, Newlyn and Penzance Roll of Honour. HMS Goliath, a Canopus class battleship, was sunk on 13th May 1915 by a Turkish torpedo boat off Cape Helles, Gallipoli with the loss of over 500 crew.

JACKA, Hugh. Private. 28662. 7th (Service) Battalion, King's Shropshire Light Infantry, 8th Brigade, 3rd Division. Killed in action on the Somme on Wednesday 21st August 1918 aged 18. Native of Newlyn. Son of Charles Jacka and Eliza Emily Jacka (née Williams), 23 Charles Street, Tolcarne, Newlyn. Interred in Bucquoy Road Cemetery, Ficheux, Pas de Calais, France (Plot VI, Row J, Grave 29) and listed on parents' headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul. Also listed on Newlyn War Memorial, Madron War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On 21st August 1918, 7 KSLI took part in the Battle of Albert on the Somme. Their objective, as one of the leading battalions of the brigade during the attack, was the Bapaume-Arras railway line just east of Courcelles. They had the 1st R.Scots Fus. on their left and the 8th Lancasters in reserve. Their attack was launched at 4.55am and had reached its immediate objective without much trouble by 7.30am. They then made a bayonet attack through heavy mist against the strong German positions on the railway embankment, the enemy being "driven off with great slaughter" and many prisoners taken. On the next day (22nd) they repelled two weak counter-attacks and continued the general advance on the 23rd. During the fighting on these few days, the 7th lost 232 men killed and wounded. It would seem that Hugh Jacka was killed in the frontal attack on the Bapaume-Arras railway embankment positions east of Courcelles.

JACKSON, Joseph Charles. Private. 16257. Machine Gun Corps (Infantry). Formerly 1224 Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Died of wounds on Wednesday 2nd January 1918 age 23. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Elder son of Corporal Joseph C. Jackson (Dorsetshire Regiment) and Amelia Jackson (née Martin) of 4 Chapel Row, Penzance. Interred in Lijssenthoek Military Cemetery, Poperinge, Belgium (Plot XXVI, Row D, Grave 10). Territorial soldier with DCLI in Penzance before hostilities. Member of St Paul's Church choir. Listed on Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on St Paul's Church War Memorial.

JACOBS, Ronald (Ron) Frank Perren. Able Seaman. Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve. Bristol Z/1441. Hawke Battalion, 189th Brigade, 63rd (Royal Naval) Division. Missing presumed killed in action on Monday 13th November 1916 age 23. Born Penzance and Educated at Truro School. Worked for his father on leaving school. Only son of Frank Jacobs (Draper) of The Terrace, Penzance and Ada Jacobs (née Drew) of Graystoke, Pendarves Road, Penzance and later of 1 Conway Crescent, Paignton, Devon. Interred in Ancre British Cemetery, BeaumontHamel, Somme, France (Plot VII, Row A, Grave 43). Listed on St John's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial (initials R.J.P.), in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on Truro School War Memorial. The Battle of the Ancre, an attack by five divisions including the Royal Naval Division, commenced at 0545 hours on the 13th November 1916. It was a misty day when the leading battalions went over the top and advanced behind a creeping barrage with the objective of the RND being the village of Beaucourt and the intervening strong points and trenches. The fighting was extremely heavy and within the first thirty minutes nearly 400 officers and men of the Hawke Battalion had become casualties. The battle raged throughout that day and the following one and Beaucourt was finally taken later that afternoon. The RND was relieved in the line on the 15th and withdrawn to the neighbourhood of Rue for two months rest and reorganisation. During the month of November the RND had lost 100 officers and 1,600 men killed and 160 officers and 2,377 men wounded. Note: Initials given as R.P.P. on the cwgc web site.

JAMES, Arthur Edward. Private. 24266. 10th (Service) Battalion (Cornwall Pioneers), Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 2nd Division. Killed in action on Monday 25th March 1918 age 21 during the First Battle of Bapaume. Youngest son of Joseph James and Annie James (née Uren) of 11 St Michael Street and later of 49 Medrose Terrace, Penzance, Cornwall. Listed on the Arras Memorial, France (Bay 6). Also listed on Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Early on the 25th March 10 DCLI were ordered by 99th Brigade to plug a gap in the line near Le Barque. All went well with Y, Z and three platoons of X Companies reaching their allocated positions in the line but the fourth platoon met a large enemy force which resulted in many of the platoon becoming casualties, but they wiped out the enemy to a man. However, due to flanking withdrawals and the enemy receiving reinforcements, the Battalion, along with 1 KRRC and a party of R Berks retired to new positions west of Dyke Road where they were re-supplied. The night spent in this position was, without exception, the coldest night for three years. The Battalion had not taken part in the heaviest fighting, but all ranks had had a gruelling time and as the casualty list for the 25th shows 1 officer and 14 other ranks were killed, 7 officers and 76 other ranks were wounded and 19 other ranks were missing.

JASPER, William Charles (Charlie). Private. 316232. 2/4th Battalion (Territorial Force), Devonshire Regiment. Drowned at sea on Sunday 30th December 1917 age 37. Penzance butcher before enlisting. Husband of Lucy Margaretta Jasper (née Evans) of Penzance. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Listed on the Chatby Memorial, Alexandria, Egypt, on St Paul's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HT Aragon (Belfast), a troopship of 9,588 tons, was torpedoed and sunk on 30th December 1917 when entering the port of Alexandria, Egypt with the loss of 380 officers and men of Commonwealth Forces.

JELBERT, William Charles (Charlie). Private. 33204. 2nd Battalion, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry. Formerly 148733 Royal Fortress Artillery. Killed in action on Sunday 4th August 1918 age 29. Born in Cornwall and resident in Pendeen but enlisted at Hilsea, Hampshire. Eldest son of John and Grace Jelbert of Higher Keigwin, Pendeen. Interred in Bienvillers Military Cemetery, Pas de Calais, France (Plot XVIII, Row E, Grave 1). Listed on Madron War Memorial, Morvah War Memorial, both Pendeen war memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Spelt JILBERT on memorial within Pendeen Church.

JELBERT, William Eric Alexander. Private. 21046. 1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment, 14th Brigade, 32nd Division. Killed in action on Thursday 3rd October 1918 age 18 during the Battle of the Beaurevoir Line (3rd to 5th October). Only child of William James Jelbert and Alice Jelbert (née Beith) of Heamoor and later of 10 Coulston's Buildings, Penzance, Cornwall. Born in Heamoor on 1st February 1900 and enlisted in Truro. He joined the Army in March 1918 and prior was employed as a motor engineer with Messrs Taylor of Penzance. Interred in Cerisy - Gailly Military Cemetery, Somme, France (Plot III, Row L, Grave 14). Listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Chapel Street Methodist Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and on family headstone in Penzance Cemetery. At 6.25 am on the 3rd of October the battalion crossed the start line and advanced, close to their artillery barrage, through thick ground mist. With A, D and B companies leading and C in support they captured all their objectives in and around the village of Sequehart by 7.45 am. As they consolidated their position the enemy counter attacked and fierce close encounter fighting took place for some time. By nightfall the battalion was reorganised and, with support from two companies of the Highland Light Infantry, the line secured but casualties were heavy with 310 of the battalion killed, wounded or missing. The enemy losses were similar.

JENKIN, John. Air Mechanic. F/25398. Royal Naval Air Service. HMS President II. Died on Tuesday 27th March 1917 age 40. Husband of Eliza Jenkin of 20 Reddinnick Terrace, Penzance and previously of Leedstown. Interred in Townshend Methodist Chapelyard, near Hayle, Cornwall (Grave 17.I). Listed on St Paul's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance, on Crowan War Memorial, on Townshend War Memorial, on Crowan Parish Church War Memorial and on Leedstown Methodist Church memorial window, St Hilary.

JENKIN, Joseph Thomas. Sapper. 159974. 233rd Field Company, Royal Engineers. Died of severe shrapnel wounds to abdomen and neck on Tuesday 5th June 1917 age 32. Born in Penzance. Enlisted in Penzance in April 1916. Served apprenticeship with Messrs Perkins & Caldwell of Penzance and prior to enlisting was employed by Messrs W.H. Trounson & Son. Pupil of Redinnick National School. Son of Samuel Prideaux Jenkin and Elizabeth Harvey Jenkin (née Rowe) of Daniel Place, Penzance; brother of Mr C. Jenkin of 20 Weeths Cottages, Penzance. Interred in Lijssenthoek Military Cemetery, Poperinge, West-Vlaanderen, Belgium (XII.C.38A). Listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on parents' headstone in Penzance Cemetery.

JENKIN, Robert Hosking. 2nd Corporal. 38176. 108th Field Company, Royal Engineers. Died of disease on Thursday 21st November 1918 age 28. Son of James Jenkin and Elizabeth Jenkin (née Thomas) of 2 Foundry Street, Newlyn, Penzance. Received a commendation for his part in rescuing a fellow soldier. Interred in Struma Military Cemetery, Kalokastron, Greece (VII.J.6). Listed on Newlyn War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on parents' grave in Sheffield Cemetery, Paul.

JENKIN, Richard Charles. Deck Hand. Mercantile Marine. HM Yacht Patrol/HMS Victory. Died in hospital in Portsmouth of pneumonia on Monday 16th September 1918 age 28. Born at Mousehole. Second son of John Jenkin and Patience Jane Jenkin (née Weeks) of St James Place, Mousehole; husband of Florence May Jenkin (née Williams), North Cliff, Mousehole, Penzance; brother of William John Jenkin (see below). Richard Jenkin had just been drafted from his ship to Royal Naval Barracks in Portsmouth, to undergo training in gunnery, when he was taken ill. Interred, with full naval honours, in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul (Grave 250). Also listed in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

JENKIN, William John. Deck Hand. 15226/DA. Royal Naval Reserve. HM Trawler Hercules IV (FD 172). Died on Tuesday 5th November 1918 age 32 after a severe illness. Eldest son of John Jenkin and Patience Jane Jenkin (née Weeks); husband of Lizzie M. Jenkin of Commercial Road, Mousehole. Interred Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul (Grave 226) with full naval honours. For some time engaged in the "T" section of the RNR. Member of Paul Church choir for many years. Listed on Paul Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HM Trawler Hercules was a converted minesweeper. William's death was possibly due to the flu epidemic.

JENKINSON, James. (Jas). (List as JENKIN on some memorials). Private. L/11470. 4th Battalion Middlesex Regiment (Duke of Cambridge's Own). Killed in action on Monday 19th July 1915 age 33. Son of William and Cecilia Jenkinson; brother of Mrs C. Atkins of Adelaide Street, Penzance. Jas Jenkinson was a Reservist and, prior to being called up, was employed as a carriage cleaner on the GWR at Penzance Railway Station. Listed on the Menin Gate Memorial, Ieper (Ypres), Belgium (Panel 49 and 51), on Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on St Paul's Church War Memorial.

JEWELS, Albert Owen. Lance Corporal. 494988. 77th Field Company, Royal Engineers. Killed in action on Monday 1st April 1918 aged 32. Husband of Mary Downing Jewels (née Tregurtha) of Vine Cottage, Newlyn, Penzance. Born in Camborne and enlisted in Penzance. Interred in Dernancourt Communal Cemetery Extension, Somme, France (Plot VII, Row B, Grave 10). Listed on both Newlyn and St Buryan War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

JOHNS, Edward. AB Seaman. Merchant Navy. SS Coath (Penzance) formerly SS Skerryvose (Glasgow). Lost at sea through enemy action on Wednesday 13th December 1916 age 42. Born in Penzance. Son of Edward Johns and Selina Johns (née Chellew) of Back of Marine Terrace, Penzance; husband of Mary Johns (née Capel of Swansea, South Wales) of 25 Camberwell Street, Penzance and previously of 7 New Inn Court Quay, Penzance. Listed on Tower Hill Memorial, London, Transport War Memorial, Newhaven, East Sussex (North panel), Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on wife's grave in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul. The SS Coath was originally presumed sunk by a mine in the English Channel on 13th December 1916, with the loss of 16 crew, but now believed to have been torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine UB-38 off Beachy Head, East Sussex en route Eastbourne to Le Havre, France with a cargo of arms and ammunition. In 1904 she had collided with and sank the RN submarine A9 off Plymouth, Devon but with no casualties on either vessel.

JOHNS, Richard Wallis. Corporal. 330473. 4th (Reserve) Battalion, Hampshire Regiment (Isles of Wight Rifles). Died as a result of war service on Friday 14th May 1920 age 29. Volunteered on 3rd September 1914, served through the Dardanelles, Egypt and was wounded (lung) at Gaza. Discharged from the army on 3rd September 1918. Son of Mr R W Johns, 3 St Clement's Terrace, Mousehole, Penzance; husband of Florence Johns (née Damp) of Isle of Wight. Interred in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul (Grave 302). Listed on Paul Church War Memorial, Mousehole Methodist Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The 4th Battalion was raised and administered by the Hampshire Territorial Force Association for home service security duties such as guarding water works, hospitals, munitions trains and power stations.

KEAST, William Robert. Stoker 1st Class. 301253. Royal Navy. HMS Majestic. Killed in action on Thursday 27th May 1915 age 35. Second son of Robert and Margaret Keast of Paul, Penzance; husband of Rhoda Keast of 40 Francis Street, Plymouth, Devon. Listed on Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon (Panel 6), Paul Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. HMS Majestic, a Majestic Class battleship, took part in the rescue of the crew from HMS Goliath on 15th May 1915 and the Dardanelles bombardments on 26th May 1915. However, on the following day was twice torpedoed by German submarine U21 during the bombardment off Gaba Tepe ("W" Beach), Cape Helles, Gallipoli and sank within seven minutes. Fortyfour of her crew perished.

KEEP, Frederick (Fred). Private. 16167. 6th (Service) Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment, 54th Brigade, 18th (Eastern) Division. Killed in action on Saturday 1st July 1916. Born at Woburn Sands, Bedfordshire and enlisted at Kettering, Northamptonshire. Husband of Mrs Keep of 10 Leskinnick Place, Penzance. KELYNACK, Richard Henry. Temporary Second Lieutenant. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action on Thursday 4th October 1917 age 21. Born at London and educated at Thomas Street School, Limehouse. Son of Captain Richard Henry Kelynack, harbourmaster of Newlyn, and Edith Kelynack (née Semmens) of Loch Broom, Newlyn, Penzance. Listed on the Tyne Cot Memorial, Zonnebeke, Belgium, on Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On 3rd October the Battalion was in reserve positions in Sanctuary Wood and that evening moved forward to relieve 1st East Surreys in the front line. The move up did not go well as heavy enemy shelling caused 60 casualties on their way up to their assembly positions. Heavy shelling continued throughout the night. At 0600 hours on 4th October the Battalion, with 1st Devons on their right, 1st East Surreys in close support and 12th Gloucesters in reserve, commenced the attack on the German lines. The ground was a vast wilderness of mud and shell-holes so the going was difficult for all concerned. As soon as they were clear of the trenches the assault waves came under heavy enfilade machine-gun fire which checked the advance but they soon got going again and captured over 200 prisoners and 15 machine-guns. Their final objective was Juniper Hill but the position could not be consolidated owing to the heavy artillery and machine-gun fire which continued until about 1830 hours. The Battalion held the ground that they had gained throughout the night with no serious German counter attacks and on the following night were relieved by 1st Cheshires. The action on 4th October is known as the Battle of Broodseinde.

KELYNACK, William (Willie) Harry. Private. 44619. 8th (Service) Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment (Princess Charlotte of Wales's), 53rd Brigade, 18th Division. Formerly 26546 Royal Warwickshire Regiment. Killed in action on Wednesday 23rd October 1918 age 19. Born at Paul. Son of John and Annie Kelynack of Duck Street, Mousehole, Penzance. Prior to enlisting at Bodmin he was serving an apprenticeship with Messrs T.E. Wallis of Sheffield. Interred in Pommereuil British Cemetery, Le Cateau, Nord, France (Grave D.8). Listed on Paul Church War Memorial, Newlyn War Memorial, Mousehole Methodist Church War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on parents grave in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul. William Kelynack served in C Company 8th Royal Berks and on 23rd October 1918 they were located in the line near Le Chateau. The division launched a major attack on the German positions commencing with a barrage at 0120 hours. The 8th were sheltering in a railway cutting at the time and, as this was within range of German retaliatory shellfire, several shells fell on them yielding 15 casualties, including the Medical Officer. They left the cutting at 0150 hours with C Company in the centre and moved up through the 10th Essex and 7th Royal West Kents. By 0220 hrs they were advancing over open ground but when they reached Richemont River they met strong machine gun fire. C Company, along with men from 10th Essex, made several attempts to storm the German positions and just before dawn, when tanks appeared on the scene, the Germans began to retire. The 8th captured 11 field guns and over 20 machine guns during this day that also saw the death of William Kelynack.

KENNETT, Charles Richard. Leading Seaman (Boatman C.G.). 213318. Royal Navy. HM Submarine G9. Drowned on active service at sea on Sunday 16th September 1917. Also listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial, Chapel Street Methodist Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. His wife Ethel Legg taught at Mousehole School for many years. On 3rd October the Battalion was in reserve positions in Sanctuary Wood and that evening moved forward to relieve 1st East Surreys in the front line. The move up did not go well as heavy enemy shelling caused 60 casualties on their way up to their assembly positions. Heavy shelling continued throughout the night. At 0600 hours on 4th October the Battalion, with 1st Devons on their right, 1st East Surreys in close support and 12th Gloucesters in reserve, commenced the attack on the German lines. The ground was a vast wilderness of mud and shell-holes so the going was difficult for all concerned. As soon as they were clear of the trenches the assault waves came under heavy enfilade machine-gun fire which checked the advance but they soon got going again and captured over 200 prisoners and 15 machine-guns. Their final objective was Juniper Hill but the position could not be consolidated owing to the heavy artillery and machine-gun fire which continued until about 1830 hours. The Battalion held the ground that they had gained throughout the night with no serious German counter attacks and on the following night were relieved by 1st Cheshires. The action on 4th October is known as the Battle of Broodseinde.

MADDERN, William Wolseley. Able Seaman. Bristol Z/966. Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve. Anson Battalion, 188th Brigade, 63rd (Royal Naval) Division. Killed in action on Monday 13th November 1916 age 19 on the first day of the Battle of the Ancre. Born 6th August 1896. Employed as a pony and cart driver before enlisting on 1st July 1915. Served with his battalion at Gallipoli. Son of William Leah and Jane Maddern of Jack Lane, Paul Hill, Newlyn, Penzance. Listed on the Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 1A), on Newlyn War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on parents' grave in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul. The Battle of the Ancre, an attack by five divisions including the Royal Naval Division, commenced at 0545 hours on the 13th November 1916. It was a misty day when the leading battalions went over the top and advanced behind a creeping barrage with the objective of the RND being the village of Beaucourt and the intervening strong points and trenches. The battle raged throughout that day and the following one and Beaucourt was finally taken later that afternoon. The RND was relieved in the line on the 15th and withdrawn to the neighbourhood of Rue for two months rest and reorganisation. During the month of November the RND had lost 100 officers and 1,600 men killed and 160 officers and 2,377 men wounded.

MILDREN, James. Private. 45928. 8th (Service) Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment (Princess Charlotte of Wales's), 53rd Brigade, 18th (Eastern) Division. Enlisted at Truro. Killed in action on Sunday 27th October 1918 age 18. Son of William and Sarah Ann Mildren of Tradavoe, Paul, Penzance. Born in Penzance and enlisted in Truro. Listed on the Vis-en-Artois Memorial, Arras, Pas de Calais, France (Panel 7), on headstone Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Paul Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. James Mildren's regimental number indicates that he was amongst a batch of young soldiers who were transferred in the field in August 1918 in order to bring 8th Royal Berks up to strength following its severe mauling during the German Spring Offensive of March 1918. James Mildren was engaged in the same action as William Kelynack (see above) and was most likely killed when 8th Royal Berks attacked German positions along the Englefontaine to Robersart road where the battalion incurred heavy casualties. The action occurred on 26th October and it is possible that his death was not reported until the following day when the battalion was relieved by 7th Royal West Kents.

MITCHELL, Gordon. Private. 18924. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. MOWAT, Malcolm. Private. 19093. 2nd (Eastern Ontario) Battalion, 1st Brigade, 1st Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Killed in action on Thursday 22nd April 1915 age 27 at Ypres during the battle for Hill 60. Youngest son of John and Mary Mowat of 5 St. Warren Street, Barwis Hill, Penzance and later of Market Jew Street and 8 Mount Street, Penzance. Born Penzance 4th February 1888 and emigrated to Canada in 1910. Mason/bricklayer by trade. Attested at Valcartier, Canada on 22nd September 1914. Listed on the Menin Gate Memorial, Ypres, Belgium (Panel 10-18-26-28). Also listed on St John's Church War Memorial, Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and in the Canadian Books of Remembrance, Ottawa (1915/29). Hill 60 suffered an extremely turbulent history throughout the war. Heavily shelled and mined by both sides, the ground forming Hill 60 - literally 60 metres above sea level - remains to this day the final resting place for countless soldiers buried beneath its grassy foundations. The hill is actually the man-made result of spoil from a nearby railway cutting but it proved an invaluable vantage point and so was much sought and fought after by the allied and German forces. It frequently changed hands. It was taken from the French by German forces in late 1914, recaptured by the British in April 1915, retaken by the Germans in May 1916, back to the British in June 1917, retaken by the Germans in April 1918 and finally recaptured by the British in September 1918.

On 3rd October the Battalion was in reserve positions in Sanctuary Wood and that evening moved forward to relieve 1st East Surreys in the front line. The move up did not go well as heavy enemy shelling caused 60 casualties on their way up to their assembly positions. Heavy shelling continued throughout the night. At 0600 hours on 4th October the Battalion, with 1st Devons on their right, 1st East Surreys in close support and 12th Gloucesters in reserve, commenced the attack on the German lines. The ground was a vast wilderness of mud and shell-holes so the going was difficult for all concerned. As soon as they were clear of the trenches the assault waves came under heavy enfilade machine-gun fire which checked the advance but they soon got going again and captured over 200 prisoners and 15 machineguns. Their final objective was Juniper Hill but the position could not be consolidated owing to the heavy artillery and machine-gun fire which continued until about 1830 hours. The Battalion held the ground that they had gained throughout the night with no serious German counter attacks and on the following night were relieved by 1st Cheshires. On the 18th of October the Battalion came out of reserve and occupied a position on the left bank of the River Lys at Courtrai. On the night of 19th /20th October the other two brigades (107th and 109th) forced the river passage in spite of considerable opposition and on the following day 108th Brigade were brought up to renew the attack. On 21st October the Battalion attacked from Spriete at 0730 hours in conjunction with the 107th Brigade on their right. The French did not advance. In spite of this, and the fact that they were not supported by artillery and much worried by machine gun fire in a landscape where there was little cover from view, the Battalion had by 0900 hours established itself near Spitaal and south of that location. Two days later the Battalion was again in action and this was the last time in the war that they were in close action with the enemy. The casualties reported for the month of October were 5 officers and 40 other ranks killed; 9 officers and 234 other ranks wounded and 1 officer and 99 other ranks missing.

Listed on High Street Methodist Church War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on father and stepmother's headstone in Penzance Cemetery. The 1/4th Battalion DCLI (T.F.) was originally raised on 2nd September 1914 as the 4th (Foreign Service) Battalion (T.F.) from those officers and men of the 4th and 5th Territorial Battalions who had previously volunteered for overseas service. It was quickly re-designated the 1/4th as another foreign service battalion, the 2/4th was raised. The 1/4th sailed for India on 4th October 1914 where it underwent a period of hard training to bring it up to the standard required of fighting troops. On 22nd January 1916 the Battalion sailed for Aden, where it was involved in operations against the Turkish army which was attempting to attack the valuable strategic coaling station of Aden.

ROGERS, William. Private. 9168. 2nd Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 82nd Brigade, 27th Division. Died of wounds on Friday 8th December 1916 age 27. Son of Thomas Mitchell Rogers and Adeline Rogers of Sancreed, Penzance. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Interred in Struma Military Cemetery, Kalokastron, Greece (VIII.A.15). Listed on St Paul's Church War Memorial. The 5th December saw 2 DCLI, together with 2nd Gloucesters, in positions in Rabbit Wood where they received orders for a second assault on the village of Tumbitza. The bombardment commenced at 0500 hours the following morning and at 0640 hours the Gloucesters advanced across the river only to be met by a storm of rifle and machine-gun fire. Only a few made it to the far bank and cover. The Cornwalls were ready to follow, and had already suffered casualties, but further attacks were abandoned under orders from Brigade and the Gloucesters fell back across the river with most of their wounded. 2 DCLI lost 9 killed and 61 wounded during the day. As this was the only action involving the Battalion at this time it is assumed that Private Rogers was wounded during this time.

ROGERS, William. Driver. 37736. 3rd Pontoon Park Company, Royal Engineers. Killed in action on Tuesday 29th October 1918 age 33. Son of Daniel and Mary Ann Rogers of 2 Prospect Place, Penzance; husband of Mary Rogers of 9 Rosevean Road, Penzance. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Listed on Tower Hill Memorial, on Transport War Memorial, Newhaven, East Sussex (North panel), on Penzance War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on Penzance Baptist Church War Memorial. The SS Coath was originally presumed sunk by a mine in the English Channel on 13th December 1916, with the loss of 16 crew, but now believed to have been torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine UB-38 off Beachy Head, East Sussex enroute Eastbourne to Le Havre, France with a cargo of arms and ammunition. In 1904 she had collided with and sank the RN submarine A9 off Plymouth, Devon but with no casualties on either vessel.

ROWE, Charles Henry. Leading Seaman. Bristol/Z/662. Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve. Nelson Battalion, 189th Brigade, 63rd (Royal Naval) Division. Died of wounds on Saturday 18th November 1916 age 20 at BEF Casualty Clearing Station, France having been wounded on 13/14th November 1916. Sixth and youngest son Robert Steven and Elizabeth Rowe of 10 St James' Street, Penzance, Cornwall; brother of Bertie, Fred and Sidney James Rowe. Interred in Contay British Cemetery, Somme, France (VIII.D.24). Listed on Penzance War Memorial, on Penzance Baptist Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The Battle of the Ancre, an attack by five divisions including the Royal Naval Division, commenced at 0545 hours on the 13th November 1916. It was a misty day when the leading battalions went over the top and advanced behind a creeping barrage with the objective of the RND being the village of Beaucourt and the intervening strong points and trenches. The battle raged throughout that day and the following one and Beaucourt was finally taken later that afternoon. The RND was relieved in the line on the 15th and withdrawn to the neighbourhood of Rue for two months rest and reorganisation. During the month of November the RND had lost 100 officers and 1,600 men killed and 160 officers and 2,377 men wounded.

ROWE, Charles Henry. Private. 27902. 6th (Service) Battalion, Wiltshire Regiment (Duke of Edinburgh's), 42nd Brigade, 14th (Light) Division. Died on Tuesday 24th September 1918 age 25. Born in Penzance and enlisted in Bodmin. Formerly 41232 Somerset Light Infantry. ROWE, Harold H. Private. 34240. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action on Thursday 4th October 1917 age 27. Son of Richard and Edith Rowe of 27 St Mary's Street and later of 21 Gwavas Street, Penzance. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Listed on the Tyne Cot Memorial, Zonnebeke, West-Vlaanderen, Belgium (Panel 80 to 82 and 163A). On 3rd October the Battalion was in reserve positions in Sanctuary Wood and that evening moved forward to relieve 1st East Surreys in the front line. The move up did not go well as heavy enemy shelling caused 60 casualties on their way up to their assembly positions. Heavy shelling continued throughout the night. At 0600 hours on 4th October the Battalion, with 1st Devons on their right, 1st East Surreys in close support and 12th Gloucesters in reserve, commenced the attack on the German lines. The ground was a vast wilderness of mud and shell-holes so the going was difficult for all concerned. As soon as they were clear of the trenches the assault waves came under heavy enfilade machine-gun fire which checked the advance but they soon got going again and captured over 200 prisoners and 15 machineguns. Their final objective was Juniper Hill but the position could not be consolidated owing to the heavy artillery and machine-gun fire which continued until about 1830 hours. The Battalion held the ground that they had gained throughout the night with no serious German counter attacks and on the following night were relieved by 1st Cheshires. The action on 4th October is known as the Battle of Broodseinde.

TRUSCOTT, James Raymond. Private. 6742. 3rd Regiment, South African Infantry, South African Brigade, 9th (Scottish) Division. Killed in action on Monday 17th July 1916 age 26 in Delville Wood. Son of James Colenso Truscott and Frances Truscott of 7 Pendarves Road, Penzance. Trained at Penzance Mining Schools, went to South Africa and was employed on the Rand. Volunteered for military service at the outbreak of war. Listed on the Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 4C) and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Listed as Raymond James on the cwgc web site. Delville Wood was a tract of woodland, nearly a kilometre square, the western edge of which touched the village of Longueval in the Somme. On 14th July 1916 the greater part of the village was taken by the 9th (Scottish) Division and on the following day, the South African Brigade captured most of Delville Wood. The wood now formed a salient in the line, with Walerlot Farm and Mons Wood on the south flank still in German hands, and, owing to the height of the trees, no close artillery support was possible for defence. The three South African battalions fought continuously for six days and suffered heavy casualties. On the 18th July, they were forced back and on the evening of the 20th the survivors, a near handful of men, were relieved.

WALLIS, John (Jack) Mitchell. Military Medal. Company Sergeant Major. 432951. 49th (Edmonton, Alberta) Battalion, 7th Brigade, 3rd Division. Killed in action on Sunday 8th October 1916 age 33 during the Battle of the Ancre Heights. Born at Kilkee, County Clare, Ireland. Served in the Royal Navy (1897-1910) as a Gunner. Farmer by trade. Enlisted on 26th January 1915. Son of Mr and Mrs J P Wallis of Gladstone Terrace, Penzance and later of 22 Trescoe Terrace, Long Rock, Penzance. Interred in Regina Trench Cemetery, Grandcourt, Somme, France (II.D.29). Listed on Gulval Church War Memorial, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and in the Canadian Books of Remembrance, Ottawa (1916/178). Early on the 8th October eight battalions from the 1st and 3rd Canadian Divisions attacked the enemy positions along Regina Trench. However, despite an initial heavy bombardment followed by a creeping barrage, the artillery fire had little effect on the masses of enemy wire defences and the enemy positions which were mainly on a reverse slope. Not many Canadians reached their objective and all the Battalions suffered heavy casualties both during the attack and when defending themselves against counter attacks. Some of the battalions were almost annihilated and the Canadian casualty figures were 1,364 on the day with a similar number killed or wounded while preparing for the operation and while holding the front in the days after the attack.

WALLIS, Mark Hollow. AB Seaman. 3254C. Royal Naval Reserve. HMS Goliath. Killed in action Thursday 13th May 1915 age 31. WARREN, William George. Silver Cross of St George (4th Class) (Russia). Petty Officer. 238632. Royal Navy. HM Submarine E13. Drowned on Friday 20th August 1915 age 24. Served in the Somaliland Expedition 1908 - 1910. Eldest son of Richard (Master at Arms, RN Base, Penzance) and Isabella Warren of 14 North Parade, Penzance. Interred in Haslar Royal Naval Cemetery, Hampshire (H.26.2) in a large grave along with six other members of the crew. Listed on St Mary's Church War Memorial and Penzance Book of Remembrance. HM Submarine E13 ran aground in shoal waters to the west of Saltholm Island, Denmark on 19th August 1915. Although in Danish territorial waters she was attacked the following morning by two German torpedo boats which set her on fire and forced the Captain to abandon her. Fifteen of the crew were drowned and the remaining 14 were interned for the duration.

WATERS, Freddie. Private (Signaller 1st Class). 34850. Signal Platoon, 6th (Service) Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 43rd Brigade, 14th (Light) Division. Killed in action on Tuesday 11th December 1917 age 20. Born in Paul, Penzance. Son of George and Elizabeth Waters, Chapel Place, Mousehole. Member of the choir at United Methodist Church, Mousehole. Enlisted into the DCLI at Penzance age 18 and 4 months. Initially posted to the 3rd (Training and Reserve) Battalion, stationed at Freshwater on the Isle of Wight, where he underwent sixteen weeks training. On completion of his training he was posted to 6 DCLI and moved to France in January 1916. At that time the Battalion was operating in the Ypres Salient. This area of low-lying farmland had been reduced to a foul stinking swamp which was constantly churned up by artillery fire. Life in the Salient was not only dangerous but uniquely miserable, especially in the winter when men were never dry. On 28th July 1916 the Battalion was relieved in the front line near Arras and marched south to join the great battles of the Somme. On 16th August it took part in the bloody battle of Delville Wood (known by all as Devil's Wood) and over the next four days the Battalion lost a total of 366 all ranks. Freddie Waters was killed by shrapnel in the Meetchaele /Passchendaele sector of the Ypres Salient on 11th December 1917. No battle was being fought at this time, but, as was usually the case in this part of the line, the attrition rate remained high. Listed on the Tyne Cot Memorial, Zonnebeke, West Vlaanderen, Belgium (Panel 80 to 82 and 163A). Also listed on Paul Church War Memorial, on parents' headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield Road, Paul, on Mousehole Methodist Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

WATKINS, John (Jack). Private. 17832. 6th (Service) Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 43rd Brigade, 14th (Light) Division. Killed in action on Friday 18th August 1916 age 30. Wounded by shrapnel the previous year. Born and enlisted in Penzance. Son of Mrs Jane Watkins of 7 Alma Place, Penzance; youngest brother of Mr Samuel O. Watkins of Tolver Road, Penzance and Spr Thomas J. Watkins, Canadian Engineers. Listed on the Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 6B) and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On the 18th of August 1916 the 6th Battalion attacked, as part of a major offensive, the northern corner of Delville Wood. Their objectives were achieved but at a cost of 7 officers and 69 other ranks killed, 7 officers and 233 other ranks wounded and 50 other ranks missing. Some of the casualties were attributed to hostile artillery fire prior to start of the advance with some reports stating that "friendly artillery fire" was also to blame.

WEBBER, Joseph Charles. Sapper. 508355. 502nd Field Company, Corps of Royal Engineers. Formerly 3148 Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Killed in action on Thursday 16th August 1917. Son of William Henry Webber and Elizabeth Ellen Webber (née Blewett); husband of Elizabeth (Bessie) Webber (née Harvey) of Newlyn. Enlisted in Penzance. Interred in Erquinghem-Lys Churchyard Extension, Armentieres, France (II.E.13). Listed in Centenary Methodist Church, Newlyn, Newlyn War Memorial, Penzance Book of Remembrance and on wife's headstone in Paul Cemetery, Sheffield, Paul.

WEBBER, Robert. Lance Corporal. 14959. 6th (Service) Battalion, Somerset Light Infantry attached 9th (Service) Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, 20th Brigade, 7th Division. Wilkins (formerly Webber) of Belgravia Street, Penzance; husband of Holly Colliver (née Webber) (née Wilkins of Belgravia Square, Penzance) of Balcony House, St Columb, Cornwall. Before enlistment he worked for the Western Union Cable Company, Penzance. Listed on the Arras Memorial, France (Bay 4), on St Paul's Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

WEEKS, William. Pioneer. 110225. 1st Labour Battalion, Royal Engineers. Killed in action on Friday 17th November 1916 age 44. Son of William Weeks of Kingsbridge, Devon; husband of Ethel Morrison Weeks of Glendower, 2 Sea View Terrace, Newlyn, Penzance. Born in Kingsbridge and enlisted in London. Interred in Guards Cemetery, Lesboeufs, Somme, France (XII.D.6) and listed on Newlyn War Memorial (as Weekes) and in Penzance Roll of Honour.

WELCH, James N. Private. 3/6323. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 95th Brigade, 5th Division. Killed in action on Sunday 23rd July 1916. Born in Madron and enlisted in Penzance. Son of Jane Welch; brother of Private William Thomas Welch (see above). Listed on the Thiepval Memorial, Somme, France (Pier and Face 6B) and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. The Battalion were in line on 19th July near Montauban and were subjected to active enemy artillery. On 23rd July, during the Battle of Delville Wood, A, B and D Companies assaulted three strong enemy points in the Longueval/Delville area. D Company was repulsed with heavy losses. The other two companies reached their objective but were flanked by the enemy and forced, owing to machine-gun fire, to retire with heavy casualties. They were relieved that night by 1st Devons and returned to their trenches.

WELCH, William Thomas. Private. 1st Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Died on Saturday 30th October 1915 age 36 at West Cornwall Infirmary, Penzance of colitis. Son of Jane Welch; husband of Ellen Furzecott Welch (née Bowden) of 8 Summer Court, New Street, Penzance and brother of Private James N. Welch. Interred near Bergen-op-Zoom War Cemetery, Noord-Brabant, Netherlands. Listed on both Heamoor (St Thomas' Church) and Madron War Memorials, in Penzance Book of Remembrance and on parents' headstone in Penzance Cemetery (Plot 21). Awarded DSO for supreme gallantry at Salerno. The citation stated "During a heavy counter-attack, in which the enemy lost their position, Lt Haydon suffered a serious shrapnel wound in the back. Although in great pain, he refused to leave his post. During a short lull which followed, Lt Haydon's wound was dressed. He again refused to leave and also refused morphia so that he might keep his mind alert. When two more swift enemy attacks were launched, Lt Haydon seized a rifle from a dead man and, although in considerable pain and with great difficulty because of his wounds, he killed four Germans at close range with his rifle. That same afternoon he fainted three times but, recovering, he effectively controlled the use of his fire-power, and set such a splendid example to his remaining men that, despite the enemy's vast numerical superiority, the attacks were beaten off. It was not until dusk, when the enemy had been decisively driven off, that Lt Haydon collapsed and had to be carried to a nearby first-aid post for medical attention. It was due to his conspicuous gallantry, leadership and extreme devotion to duty that the position was held". His father, a Lieutenant in the Royal Engineers was captured at Dunkirk and spent the rest of the war as a prisoner of war.

Listed on Paul Church War Memorial, Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Edward Kitchen was a member of the 1st DCLI which, in November 1941, had moved from its peacetime location in Lahore, Pakistan to Iraq. There it became part of the 10th Indian Division under Major General William Slim, which had the role of guarding the Iraq oil wells. On 1th May 1942, the Battalion was ordered to Egypt and on the following day started an epic 2,000 mile journey by motor transport over some of the most barren and desolate desert in the world. On the final approach to Bir el Harmat the stream of order, counter-order and disorder which emanated from various staffs would have been hilariously funny in retrospect, had it not ended in the tragic destruction of a fine regular battalion in a single days fighting.

Son of Dick Alfred and Lauria Jane Lee (née Bunn) of Barnby, Suffolk; husband of Lily Lee of Newlyn, Penzance. Interred St John the Baptist Churchyard, Barnby, Suffolk. Listed on Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

LE GRICE, Andrew. Lieutenant. 50798. 2nd Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Killed in action on Friday 31st May 1940 age 27 at Dunkirk, France. Younger son of Charles Henry and Dorothy Isobel Le Grice of Treneife, Penzance; husband of Joan Ann Le Grice (née Marsden) of Chiddingfold, Surrey. Listed on Dunkirk Memorial, Dunkirk Town Cemetery, Nord, France (Column 60), on Newlyn War Memorial, Madron War Memorial, on the family headstone in the School Hall Churchyard, Paul and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. On 30th and 31st May the Battalion was holding part of the most easterly sector of the British defensive perimeter around Dunkirk. On the night of 31st May orders were received for the Battalion to withdraw to the beaches of La Panne (where it was originally intended that embarkation should take place). The withdrawal was to be covered by the Carrier Platoon and a platoon of C Company under Andrew Le Grice. The area was intersected by wire cattle fences that made silent movement difficult. Andrew was the last to leave the position and as he was negotiating one such fence he allowed the wire to twang. A German machine gun, which was doubtless set up on a fixed line covering this particular withdrawal route, immediately opened fire mortally wounding this officer. He died shortly afterwards. He was a most popular man and his death, so close to safety, came as a heavy blow to the Battalion.

LOCKYER, Gwendolen. Nurse. Killed on duty in air raid at St Thomas's Hospital, London on Monday 9th September 1940 age 39. Daughter of Dr Cuthbert and Mrs M. Lockyer of Alverton Cottage, Penzance. Interred in Lambeth Cemetery, London. Listed on the memorial window in St Mary's Church, Penzance and in Penzance Book of Remembrance.

Grave 1). Listed on Newlyn War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Prior to the outbreak of the war 4/5th DCLI was a territorial battalion but in August 1939 it was split with 4 DCLI being allocated to the western part of Cornwall and 5 DCLI the eastern part. Their operational tasks were the guarding of key points. In 1940, 4 DCLI were tasked with defending long stretches of the Sussex beaches and later that year moved to Yorkshire where they remained until February 1941. They then moved south to the St Albans area and Essex coast in a beach defence role. Early in 1942 they were receiving drafts of basically trained recruits from the Infantry Training Centres and turning them into trained soldiers before sending them to field force units.

MATTHEWS, Denys Tregoning. Private. 5729403. 5th Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment. Killed due to enemy action at Dover, Kent on Sunday 27th June 1943 age 25. Listed in Penzance Book of Remembrance and interred in Penzance Cemetery. Just before 2300 hrs 10 high explosive and a number of incendiary bombs fell. Six houses were completely destroyed at Alma Place, another 30 seriously damaged and about 700 persons were affected. One bomb on St James Street caused widespread damaged affecting some 300 houses. Nine persons were killed and 26 were seriously injured.

MILDREN, James Henry. Private. 5434782. 2nd Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. Killed in action on Sunday 19th May 1940 aged 29 years. Husband of Irene Mildren. Interred in Avelgem Communal Cemetery, West-Vlaaderen, Belgium - Row B, Grave 3. Listed on Newlyn and Sancreed War Memorials and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. James Mildren, a soldier in 2 DCLI, was killed during the retreat of the British Expeditionary Force to the sea in the Spring of 1940. His death is alleged to have occurred on 19th May during the occupation of a major rearguard defensive position on the River Escaut. The word 'alleged' is used because the Battalion arrived in the position just before midnight on 18th May; recced the presumed defensive layout on 19th May; carried out further recces after the original plan had been changed, and dug in during the night 19th /20th May and during daylight on the following day. It was not till 3 o'clock that afternoon that the first German shells fell on the Battalion position and it is therefore probable that James was killed on either 20th or 21st May.

MINARDS, Alfred James. Private. D/32677. Devonshire Regiment. Died on Wednesday 23rd February 1944 age 52. Husband of Nannie Jeffery Minards of Newlyn, Penzance. TONKIN, Reginald Charles (Charlie). Private. 5441010. 7th Battalion, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry, 167th Brigade, 56th Division. Died in Algeria on Tuesday 30th November 1943 aged 27, from wounds received during the Battle of Monte Camino, southwest of Cassino, Italy, which took place over the period 11th to 13th November 1943.

Member of St John's Ambulance, Penzance. Son of Philip and Dorothy Tonkin of 27 Leskinnick Terrace, Penzance; husband of Ruby Elvira Tonkin of 14 Green Street, Newlyn, Penzance.

Interred in Dely Ibrahim War Cemetery, Algiers, Algeria, North Africa (4.E12). Listed on Newlyn War Memorial, St John's Church War Memorial and in Penzance Book of Remembrance. Monte Camino was overlooked and dominated by Monastery Hill and this gave the Germans excellent observation from which to direct fire on any attacking force. Just below the summits were jagged razor edged spurs with steep approaches strewn with heavy boulders. In their defences the Germans had excavated machine gun positions out of solid rock. In the first of two engagements, by bitter hand-to-hand fighting and courageous assaults up the cliff face and over large boulders, the summit of Monte Camino was taken but after ten days the troops had to be withdrawn due to terrible weather and the difficulties in bringing up water, food and ammunition. After reorganisation, a fresh attack, proceeded by one of the heaviest concentrations of artillery fire, was made. This attack succeeded but not before the enemy had fought with despairing fury from their shelters. During the course of the battle the Battalion suffered 3 officers and 21 ORs killed, 3 officers and 65 ORs wounded, and 1 officer and 26 ORs missing.
